PROJECTS

Vehicle Anti-collision System using ultrasonic sensor
Mini Project

- An attempt has been made to study aspects of ultrasonics. Such detection is accomplished by the gradual decrease in the speed of the motors,thus avoiding accidents.

Wireless Smartphone Charging Using Solar Cell
Major Project

- We proposed and designed Autocharge,a new approach that enables automatic smartphone charging. The key idea is putting on a desk and automatically charging the smartphone without requiring explicit effort from the user. We designed a camera based system to automatically detect and track smartphones on a desk. As a result, our Autocharge approach significantly reduces user's burden in smartphone charging.
